BLPD to Host Free Women's Self Defense Class

Batesburg-Leesville, S.C. (January 9, 2018) – The Batesburg-Leesville Police Department will be hosting a free Women's Self Defense Class later this month. The two-hour course will be led by Sgt. Toni Keisler, a certified self-defense instructor.

Starting at 6pm in Council Chambers (120 W. Church St, Building B), women of all ages will learn proper techniques to defend themselves from aggressors. Attendees are asked to wear comfortable clothing and athletic shoes. The class size will be limited to the first 20 women who sign-up.

For more information, or to sign-up, please call BLPD at (803) 532-4408.
